

GPIP: UNDERSTANDING YOUR PAYMENT OPTIONS AND INLINGUA REFUND POLICIES

GPIP TUITION AND FEES

inlingua provides instruction and charges tuition for the General Purpose Immersion Program (GPIP) by the month. When you enroll in this intensive English program, you may select to study from one (1) to twelve (12) months. Due to the length and structure of this program, you may not enroll for fewer than one (1) month or more than twelve (12) months at a time.

PAYMENT OPTIONS

All students have the option of paying their tuition in full at the time of enrollment or paying as they go (this means paying one month at a time). Students who pay as they go must pay for each month by no later than the fifth day of that month. Students who choose to pay their tuition in full may receive a discount (see attached price sheet for complete details), but may not be entitled to a refund if they exit the program early. Students who choose to pay as they go will pay the full (list) tuition price but will not lose any prepaid tuition if they exit the program early.

inlingua recommends that students select the payment option that best meets their personal and financial needs. If you are not sure whether you will leave the program before your scheduled end date, then it may be better for you to pay as you go since you will not risk losing any prepaid tuition, in the event that you do not qualify for a refund. However, if you are fairly certain that you will not leave the program early, then you may benefit from paying in full since you may receive a discounted tuition price.

REFUNDS

inlingua does not provide refunds for non-refundable fees, except as noted below. Whether you are entitled to a refund of unused prepaid tuition (including tuition deposit, if any) depends on your circumstances (please see the program's terms and conditions for full details). Students are only entitled to a refund of prepaid tuition (including tuition deposit, if any) if one of the following apply:

1. You cancel your enrollment within the first three (3) calendar days of signing the inlingua enrollment form.
2. You submit a written request to cancel your enrollment after the first (3) calendar days of signing the inlingua enrollment form but before the first scheduled day of class. In this case, you will receive a refund of prepaid tuition minus the equivalent cost of tuition for one (1) academic quarter.
3. inlingua denies you admission into the program (in this event, all prepaid tuition and fees, including non-refundable fees, will be refunded).
4. You are an initial attendance student applying from abroad and your F-1 visa application is denied by the United States embassy or consulate.
5. You have applied from within the United States and your application to change nonimmigrant (visa) status is denied by the United States government.
6. You have enrolled for a longer period (total number of months) than you need to complete the program. This usually only happens if you enter the program at the highest level and have prepaid for more than three months of tuition. If this happens, you will receive a full refund of all prepaid tuition for the months you will be unable to use.